100 Years of Richard Feynman – A celebration of Curiosity and Science

Prof Muronga, Executive Dean of Science, will be hosting a public lecture to celebrate Richard Feynman's broad contributions to science and society as a scientist, teacher and curious character.

Richard Feynman is considered one of the 20th-century's most accomplished theoretical physicists, along with Albert Einstein and the recently deceased Stephen Hawking.

This public lecture forms part of the pre-launch activities leading up to the 2018 National Science Week
